

A COMPACT FOR DERBYSHIRE

---

FEBRUARY 2003

WHY HAVE A COMPACT?

Local Government is rapidly becoming dominated by the concept of Partnerships. Most, if not all, new initiatives emphasise the need for inter-agency partnerships as the basis for action at local level. The delivery of effective equitable and efficient services will increasingly rely upon strong and appropriately defined relationships between the different agencies concerned.

Against this background the nature of the relationship between Statutory organisations and the Voluntary/Community Sector is increasingly important.

The National Compact was launched by Government in November 1998. Since then Statutory Organisations and Voluntary Organisations have been encouraged to develop their own Compacts, to suit local circumstances.

In Derbyshire it is fair to say that a good relationship already exists between statutory organisations and Voluntary organisations/Community groups. A Compact is seen as the means of developing that relationship further over the coming years, building upon existing good practice while taking account of changing demands in society.

WHAT IS A COMPACT?

It sets out a framework to guide future relationships between the statutory sector, voluntary and community organisations. It is seen very much as a starting point, not a conclusion. There must be a joint commitment to developing its application and effectiveness.

The Compact is therefore a "work in progress" and not designed to gather dust. It should be subject to regular review and an Action Plan to ensure progress. The Compact should be informed by nationally produced Codes of Practice covering the following areas:

- i) Funding
- ii) Consultation and policy appraisal
- iii) Volunteering
- iv) Community Groups
- v) Black and Minority Ethnic organisations and any other policy documents which might follow.

The Derbyshire Compact has been developed jointly with Voluntary and Community Organisations. There is a commitment by partners to extend the agreement to other organisations working in Derbyshire.

The Derbyshire Compact has been developed on the basis of consultations with voluntary and community organisations. It also draws upon national guidance and existing good practice.

It is a framework for the way in which partners should work together.

It is a voluntary commitment by partners to certain principles and to resolving difficulties in an equitable manner.

Community Groups and the Derbyshire Compact

It is important that the distinctive needs and interests of Community Groups are taken into account, by both statutory and voluntary organisations, as their perspectives and concerns may differ from those of other voluntary organisations.

Partners to the Derbyshire Compact will consider the national Code of Good Practice, regarding Community Groups.

Organisations from Black and Ethnic Minority Organisations and the Derbyshire Compact

Partners to the Derbyshire Compact welcome the range of black and ethnic minority organisations. Yet many fall outside of the traditional structures of the voluntary and community sector. The Compact process will try to address the needs and issues of importance to black and ethnic minority organisations.

The national Code of Good Practice will be considered.

THE PRINCIPLES OF THE DERBYSHIRE COMPACT

- # Volunteering is an essential component of a democratic society.
- # An independent and diverse voluntary and community sector is fundamental to the wellbeing of society.
- # In the development and delivery of public policy and services, the statutory sector and voluntary and community sectors have distinct but complementary roles.
- # There is "added value" in working together towards common aims and objectives. Meaningful consultation builds relationships, improves policy development and enhances the design and delivery of services and programmes.
- # Each sector has different forms of accountability and is answerable to a different range of stakeholders and each other. But there is a common need for integrity, objectivity, accountability, openness and honesty, respect and effective leadership.
- # Voluntary and community organisations should be free to campaign within the law in order to advance their aims.
- # The need for the statutory sector to allocate adequate and appropriate resources to voluntary and community organisations is recognised. These include funding and advice and other support. They are important elements of the relationship between the sectors.
- # A commitment to celebrating diversity, promoting equality of opportunities, and good relations between the diverse groups within our community.
- # The Derbyshire Compact is very much a working document, subject to a Joint Annual Review, reflecting local experience and national guidance, with an Action Plan developed on the basis of that review. The Joint Annual Review will include the representatives of all key agencies, ensuring the Joint Review process is conducted appropriately and 'owned' by all partners to the Compact.

Our Commitment

We agree with the Derbyshire Compact and are committed to working with our partners in accordance with its principles.

|---|---|
| # To recognise the distinct needs of the varying rural and urban populations of Derbyshire and the differing demands these make on voluntary organisations and community groups in those areas. | # Recognise that other partnerships could benefit from these working practices. |
| # To recognise that partners may work in isolation and are often under resourced, and   |   |
| # To acknowledge their independence, including the right within the law to campaign, to comment on public policy.   |   |
| # Recognise other partnerships, which could benefit from these working practices.   |   |
| # To recognise the influence on voluntary organisations and community groups of varying and not necessarily co-ordinated priorities that may exist across statutory agencies.                   |   |

| # To promote the active involvement of representatives of all key agencies in the Joint Review and Action Plan.                      | # To support the involvement of local Councils for Voluntary Service CVS's and other existing forums in the review process. |
| # To promote the adoption of the Compact by other relevant agencies.   | # To promote the adoption of the Compact by others.   |

Annual Review of the Compact

There will be an Annual Review of the Compact. It will include the nominated representatives of all key agencies. It will take into account local experience of putting the agreement into practice, national policy guidance and Codes of Good Practice.

Consideration will be given to any additions or amendments that may be necessary. On that basis an Action Plan will be developed for the following year. This will be designed to translate statements of principle into action.

Progress will be monitored against an agreed timetable. A revised Action Plan will result from each Joint Annual Review, ensuring the continued development of The Compact.
